Three questions...

1. Why are you reading this?

Probably because you're concerned about our profession. And you want to know who you can trust in this election. You want to vote for a candidate who thinks and feels the same way you do.

2. Why am I writing to you?

Because I share your concerns. And I feel that we need to protect our profession. I cannot just watch what is happening in our council without my knowledge. I have decided to step forward and help. I have done it before, and I'll do it again. I am the biggest critic of what is happening in PEO now. Like you, I want to bring about change.

3. What's next?

It is time for action. We all must vote to send the right people to council. Every vote counts. We are a big family with diverse needs that need our attention. And we must do better. Change may be slow, but as your president, I will start reform immediately. Please take the time to vote in this election.

Let's work together.

Please remember:

- Not every engineering discipline needs CPD or PEAK
- Communication problems must be resolved
- A "Strong President Act" needed
- Wise and efficient budget allocation
- Public relations need improvement

Together we can bring about change staying true to our values.

I need your support.

It is not about me; it is about us and our profession. I could have given you a wonderful list of my personal achievements in this article, but how could it be helpful. Instead, I have emphasized problems and their possible solutions.

Every vote counts
